"AND JONES, DON'T FORGET—THIS JOB CALLS FOR PLEASING PERSONALITY"

Grouches—bad temper—are often signs of a run-down physical condition

PERSONALITY has a lot to do with holding down a job. If you're angry, if you're grouchy, if you're bad-tempered, if you're a chip on your shoulder, you can't expect to make a good impression.

Often, people are called difficult to get along with—when the truth is they are over-tired, physically run-down.

The cause is usually an "underfed" condition of the blood. Your blood tells you body. There it is "underfed" that's not enough to hold you down to your nerves and muscles to keep your energy up to par. As a result you become low-spirited and generally not of use.

How a Simple Food Rebuilds the Nerves

An Easter Thought
FOR SAFETY

This is the fourth of a series of magazine articles discussing widely published by General Walker in the hope that, here and there, doctors may find a useful suggestion.

As Easter nears, spring rolls us to enjoy another pleasant season of home cooking.

But if we're serious, we won't respond too eagerly to their temptation to throw off our winter hood, driving faster and "give it the gas" as the kids say.

First thing we'll want to do is run our ear in for a thorough Spring check up of hoses, wiring, tires and a tune. At the same time, it's important to have winter worn lubricants changed throughout—for every motorist knows, a little extra helps that.

Then, when we realize that our car is in need, there are two happens we will get out of this business's monetary grasp will up to us, as drivers. The responsibility for our own safety, and the protection of the people who ride with us, is in our hands.

Never in pain under our own a little no warm. Never to damage the warning signals that tell of danger ahead. Never in "stop on it" for doing the other fellow might not be exposing to Gerson making the proper signal. - Never to "bug this meat" that you can be a prince and powerful, but still "underneath" mechanism...underneath because it's powerful as is the right thing or the safe thing without the driver's skilled, alert, responsible direction.

There are two reasons why the U.S. is not a leader now but is likely to be in the future. First, the U.S. has a large and growing deficit. Second, the U.S. has a large and growing debt. These two factors are likely to lead to a loss of confidence in the U.S. government and its ability to pay its debts. This loss of confidence is likely to lead to a loss of leadership in the world.
